Staggered Holidays

The Hon. C. D. Howe, minister of municipalities and supply, has asked Canadian workers and their employers to arrange for staggered vacations this year so that travel, instead of setting up a peak in the traditional vacation months, may be spread out evenly over spring, summer and autumn.

A point to note is that the total weight of a plane and its load is carried on three wheels, or on two wheels and a tail-dragger. The growth of the transport and the locomotive will be matched by the growth in size, carrying capacity, and weight of their overhead rail.

That is why at Edmonton and stopping places on the Northwest air route the Union Government is to spend this year millions of dollars making runways long enough and long enough to accommodate the winged mammoths which the designers are planning for the post-war time.

But there is a reasonable request and should include the co-operation of every Canadian. But there is a simpler and even more effective way of achieving such a travel balance. That is by restoring excursion rates for vacationists in the months of spring and autumn least favored by those taking holidays.

The pressure on June, July and August would be materially relieved if those who ordinarily travel in those months could be persuaded, by cheaper rates, to take their annual trips in May, September and October.

Reprehensible

No words are too strong to condemn the much-advertised event which is said to have taken place on Easter Day along the Cassino front. The German forces conducted Christian services in the German language within the hearing of the enemy.

If this war has a religious implication, as we have been so frequently assured, and if the Allies are fighting the fight of Christianity against pagan aggression, it was both unchristian and unchristianly pertinent to conduct what amounted to joint religious services.

If, on the other hand, the occasion was intended to reawaken Christian sentiment in Germany for the purpose of weakening their zeal for Nazism, the Christian service would appear to have been unworthily prostituted to the purposes of political propaganda.

In either case, the affair was reprehensible.

Unneutral Neutrals

American Secretary of State Hull minced no words in condemning the practice of neutral countries in extending aid to the Axis. His firm resolution to deal with these countries will be applauded in every Allied nation.

But the secretary's stand would have been more effective in stopping these practices and much more effective in making the world's own people be a little more definite in forecasting just what he proposed to do about them.

The laying down of high-minded principles is an imposing performance in peace times. It does not accomplish very much in times of war.

The influence the Axis exercises over the fascist-biased nations is exercised on the basis of specific threats. Nazi Germany has never been able to do this. It will happen to countries who fail to carry out their will. Only specific threats and concrete proposals are able to successfully counter the Axis influence.

It is rather a pity Mr. Hull was not equally specific and concrete. A vague measure of disapproval is too reminiscent of the mandate era when the world condemned Italy for bedevilling Ethiopia and then stood aside and watched her do it.

The neutral nations remember that as well as ourselves.

Who is the Guarantor?

Prime Minister De Valera has addressed an appeal to the belligerent powers, asking that Rome be spared from attack. At Ottawa, Mr. Dorion, member for Charlevoix-Saguenay, asked the Government for assurance—which it didn't get—that Canadian troops will not be used in attacking or bombing the city.

Both these gentlemen know that there will be no attack on Rome if the threat that the city is in fact demilitarized by the removal of enemy military establishments and the re-orientation of military supplies. They know equally well that no one can be responsible for the conduct of the war, but that the word of any Nazi official, Hitler down to the lowest, can be spared the destruction heaped upon London and Berlin, why are not Mr. De Valera and Mr. Dorion bolder enough to find some trustworthy neutral who will satisfy himself and satisfy the Allied Government that demilitarization has actually been carried out if and when that is done.

Begging the Allies to not do what they have no desire to do, and certainly will not do unless military supplies are cut off, is neither an effective way to protect the city nor a convincing way of showing that the safety of Rome is the only object the pleaders have in mind. The way to get results is to provide a dependable sponsor who will say if and when Rome has in fact been converted into an open city.

Real Post-War Planning

From San Diego comes word that a new airliner providing accommodation for 48 passengers will take off on trial flights about May 1st. The plane will have a cruising range of 4,000 miles and a payload of 65,000 pounds. Such is the trend of designs for post-war air carriers; bigger planes, carrying heavier loads, to succeed in the process of evolution by still bigger planes carrying still heavier loads.

The growth of the transport and the locomotive will be matched by the growth in size, carrying capacity, and weight of their overhead rail.

A point to note is that the total weight of a plane and its load is carried on three wheels, or on two wheels and a tail-dragger.

That is why at Edmonton and stopping places on the Northwest air route the Union Government is to spend this year millions of dollars making runways long enough and long enough to accommodate the winged mammoths which the designers are planning for the post-war time.

Look Backward

If, as reported, the unofficial but all-powerful Prussian "general staff" have been planning a surprise attack since 1969, they may have to do some revising. Berlin suggests a pattern of what will have to be done to the whole Prussian breeding-ground of aggression if the Allies are to end this war with any sound prospect of future peace. Assuming this to be the intention, it is a half-century too late.

Recognition and Non-Recognition of Governments

Confused With Approval
And Disapproval by Public

By DOROTHY THOMPSON
If there is any common public confusion regarding American foreign policy, it is on the subject of recognition. The use we have made of the recognition of governments is a subject of great interest.

In traditional diplomatic procedure the government is the custom to recognize the government of another country without any implications of approval or disapproval. The question of whether a government is a government is a matter of fact, not of opinion.

However, the United States, before this administration, but increasingly under it, has developed another practice. To recognize or not to recognize is a matter of opinion.

Now the converse of disapproval is approval. If non-recognition means we disapprove, then recognition means we approve. This is a logical result of the re-establishment of normal diplomatic relations.

Other nations, which do not use the recognition of governments as a means of expressing their opinion, are therefore entitled to draw deductions from our actions.

Our own. How could Hitler fail to see this? We were more opposed to the Soviets than to him.

We have referred to the recognition of the government of the Argentine. It has been pointed out by some writers that this was a mistake.

Under these conditions it is no wonder that we have been forced to use the state department of being pro-Fascist.

ADDITION of the U.S. Signalers should add considerable punch to the Edmonton Senior Baseball League from the competitive angle and the two teams make the first of the season a team loop a very unusual setup. The Yanks were popular last season too and fans will be looking forward to greeting another nine from "South of the Border."

Strength of the new club is of course unknown excepting possibly to those directly connected with the entry, but Lt. Don Dennis does not appear to be worried and the All-American attraction for opening day, May 21, has all the aspects of being a natural.

It is assumed that several other Americans will find spots in the lineups of the remaining three clubs, Aircraft Repair and Arrows probably will be relying on that source for players, more so than the Dodgers, whose first practice has been called for tonight.

Forrest Hunter who pitched for the Dodgers last season is still in the city and Tommy Brand and Ralph Morgan are also available. George Green, Al Superseno and Dick Noon are others of last year's team expected to appear. Additional names linked with the Dodgers are Harry Johnson, who pitched a twirler now discharged from the army is also reported a Dodger.

To Enter Allan Cup Final

TORONTO, April 11.—(CP)—Quebec Aces unleashed a six-goal barrage in the final period Monday night for an 8-3 win over Sudbury Froot Open Pit that gave them the eastern Canada senior hockey championship in three straight games. Aces now meet either New Westminster Lodestars or Port Arthur Shipbuilders in the Allan cup finals.

through the smooth clicking of the puck, the Aces and hard jolting of the first two periods. Quebec led 2-0 in the first, and then coasted as Froot rammed home a brace of goals in the second. Aces opened up in the third and before the six-minute mark had rapped in three straight goals. Froot replied with a single goal by Cloutier, but they had shot their bolt and Aces swept through for two more goals before the period ended.

McLennahan again was the stand-out on the Froot team, throwing hard checks in all directions and leading numerous rushes up to the Quebec goal-mouth. Pelly Kelly turned in a good game, and was robbed of what looked like a sure goal by Bouvrette's classy net-minding. Webster, Lahti and Vainala were fighting hard from beginning to end, but missed many chances by over-enthusiasm around the enemy goal.

Aces seemed to have plenty of power in reserve. They showed that in the third when Froot was clearly outclassed most of the time. A small crowd of 2,500 saw the game, and were predominantly for Froot, bawling the tough, bruising Quebec sack at every opportunity.

Scoring was evenly distributed, with Lude Check of Aces the only player getting more than one goal. He rapped in two, both in the third period. Other Quebec scorers were Brundage, Higgins, Baldwin, Smith, Rossignol and Bergeron. Blake, Vallancourt and Cloutier scored for Froot.

U.S. Signalers Admitted as Fifth Club in Edmonton Circuit

Five Teams in City Senior Baseball League

Tentative Opening Date Is May 21

EDMONTON Senior Baseball League will be comprised of five teams for the season as the application of the U.S. Signalers was accepted at last night's meeting, thus increasing by one the circuit which will be operating at Renfrew Park during the coming summer. Aircraft Repair, Arrows, Dodgers and U.S. Army Engineers (Yanks) are the other four clubs.

Tentative opening date is Sunday, May 21, and it is planned to have four games each week—Tuesdays, Thursdays, Saturdays and Sundays. It is also expected that the opener will be an All-American affair, with the Signalers, the loop baby club opposing the Yanks, last year's champions. Secretary W. G. Hill (Bar) has been asked to prepare a schedule which will be submitted at a later meeting and there is a possibility that it will provide for a total of 48 games, which would be 12 more in the 1945 list.

The application for membership in the league by the U.S. Quarter-masters was withdrawn. Three clubs will be included in the league at the conclusion of the regular schedule. The two who will receive a bye and the second and third teams will engage in a best-of-five series, with the survivor meeting the top club in a best-of-three series for the city championship.

The 1944 season opened on May 23 and the schedule was concluded August 12, after which the playoffs were held. The last game of the season was between the Calgary All-Stars and Vancouver Seals. Included in the list attending last night's meeting were Vice-President Dave Brown, Secretary, Sgt. Willie Adams, Jim Kelly, Cal Payne, Bud Corcoran, Ralph Morgan, and others.

Washington Has Strong Pitching
COLLEGE PARK, Md., April 11.—(AP)—If you figure all-around pitching strength is enough to tell the story of the first season of baseball year, you can order your ticket right now from the Washington Senators. But if you insist on an air-tight infield with a big gun in the staff, you'll look elsewhere.

Twice McLennahan missed scoring for Froot by inches. Last night's game was not as rough as the second contest was Saturday night, although tensions flared in the final session as Froot fought desperately to break

PORT ARTHUR, April 11.—(CP)—New Westminster Lodestars deadlocked the western Canada senior hockey best-of-seven finals here Monday night by whipping Port Arthur Shipbuilders 8-4. Each team has two wins and the first game ended in a 5-5 overtime tie.

NEW YORK, April 11.—As Bobby Pernane shifted his riding activities to Jamaica Monday, the little blond apprentice with the taffy locks hoped that racing fans "won't think I'm as good as I looked while scoring that triple-five at Tropical."

Blue-eyed Bobby, who amazed the turf world by riding five winners on each of three consecutive days during the closing programs at Miami's Tropical Park, arrived from Florida by plane Sunday.

"I'm not as good as I looked at tropical," he said, with a modesty that approached shyness, as he leaned against the registration desk in Jamaica's Whitman hotel. "I was simply lucky down there. You've got to be lucky to go like I was going at Tropical—50 winners in 30 days. I'm not that good. I've got a lot to learn yet before I'll be in the same class with fellows like Eddie Arcazo, Don Meade, etc."

MIGHT BE OTHER REASON

This reporter suggested to the 25-year-old jockey that the three winners might be other reason, in addition to luck, for his sensational success at Tropical, where he rode 18 winners in the last four days.

With a grin, the kid in the checkered-turk sacket and brown slacks ventured, "Well—Those horses seemed to get me. I must have been in luck. I seemed to go all out for it. Mr. Wessler says horses run for me because I enjoy riding them so much." Jules Wessler, a New York trainer-owner, has the kid from Milford, Mass., under contract.

Diminutive Pernane, who is 4' 6" because of his parents' five-foot chassis, admitted that he was right about his enjoyment. He said, "I'd rather ride than anything in the world. I've always loved horses, although the first time I got on one, I almost got killed."

How was that?

"My father and mother gave me a pony for my 10th birthday. The first time I climbed on her, I fell off and hurt my head so badly I was in bed for three weeks."

Did they stop the pony?

"No. My folks kept the pony, and sent me to a riding academy where I learned to sit him properly."

TURNED TO RACING

BOBBY was born at Camden, N.J., but didn't stay there long. His father was in the show business. His father was an English-born accordion player and his mother an American dancer. For nine years after his birth, they lived in America and Australia. When his father went out, they bought a roadside restaurant at Milford, Mass. His father died five years ago. The restaurant folded.

Young Pernane turned to racing, and registered his first victory as an apprentice last Aug. 31 at the Garden State Park, Camden.

Vancouver Girls Take 2-Game Lead

WINNIPEG, April 11.—(CP)—Vancouver Heludans Monday night took a two-game lead over Winnipeg Althorns in the best-of-five Dominion women's basketball final, defeating the Manitoba champions 41-38.

Heludans took the first match 42-37. Third game will be played here Wednesday.

Displaying the same smooth work that brought them the Dominion crown in 1942 and 1943, the Vancouver team was never in doubt after Kay Burman netted on a foul shot. At the end of the first quarter Heludans had an 18-12 lead.

den. His first winner, Royal Silver, paid $152.30. He now has about 150 victories. He will become a full-fledged jockey next September 1, and automatically lose his five-year apprentice allowance.

Little Bobby, who was slated to ride "at least" four horses Monday at Jamaica, will give the bookies "Pernane poisoning" if he wins on the New York track like he did at Tropical.

"He's got four more books coming out, but he says they haven't fought those battles yet!"

Purses To Be Boosted

Grooms at Jamaica Track Win Strike for More Money

NEW YORK, April 11.—(AP)—Striking grooms at Jamaica won their fight for more money Monday when the State Racing Commission approved a track-proposed plan to boost purses $100 on each race, the extra money to be used to pay the boys who escort horses to the paddock.

The grooms, seeking $5 for each horse led to the paddock and $15 for each winner, held up Saturday's opening event into a one-hour affair.

The betting cancellation on the race led to a refund of $12,023, 865-00 of which was on the daily double.

Herbert Bayard Swope, chairman of the commission, said the purse increase would be effective immediately and would be added to all purses up to $2,000, as all New York tracks.

The crowd of 30,340, lured by the controversy and elimination of the first race, held back on the second race betting but finally poured in money into the pari-mutuels at the end of the 1:24.68.

Bobby Pernane, seasonal apprentice who won 50 races in 30 days—18 in the last four—at Tropical Park, was aside one winner as he opened here Monday.

Pernane rode Leving, a $5.00 choice, to victory in the sixth, beating the even money favorite, Bold Anna, in a stretch drive.

Only one horse, C. F. Kohler's Star of Padua, appeared for the opening event, being led to the paddock by trainer Jimmie Ritchie.

Star of Padua staged a one-horse "walkover," going the six furlongs in 2:15.44. Owner Kohler was awarded the $1,170 winner's share of the purse.

Toronto Juvenile Cagers Win Title

SAINT JOHN, N.B., April 11.—Toronto Lilies became Canadian juvenile basketball champions with their swamped Saint John Y.M.C.A. Trojans 42-20 after a quarter-play, 54-71 victory in Saturday night's opener. The representatives of Toronto's Elizabeth playgrounds won the total-point final series 96-52.

40,000 See Liverpool Lose

Everton Becomes Challenger For North Loop Soccer Title

By ALAN NICKLES

LONDON, April 11.—(CP)—A crowd of 40,000, greatest of the bank holiday football program, Monday watched Everton trounce Liverpool 3-0 and establish itself as a serious challenger to Bath and Wrexham for the league north championship.

Bath, although defeated 2-1 by Swansea, retained the league lead on goal average as Wrexham and Chester played to a two-all draw.

Three of the four semi-finalists for the league cup participated in league championship matches, open to all teams whether or not they are in the playoffs.

Aston Villa trounced West Bromwich and Manchester City whipped Manchester United, both by 4-1 score, before crowds of 15,000. Sheffield United dropped a 2-1 decision to Barnsley. The other semi-finalist, Blackpool, did not play.

The R.A.F. smashed the British Army 3-0 in a inter-allied services cup for the first time in the war. Both teams were sprinkled with big league footballers, one of the R.A.F.'s best being Bernard Joy, Arsenal international. Len Horsman, with two, and L. C. Finch, scored the goals.

Chelsea and Charlton, league north cup finalists, warmed up for the cup tie at Wembley April 15 with victories in the league's championship play. Chelsea edged out Fulham 2-1 and Charlton beat Reading 2-1. Arsenal ousted Brighton 2-1 and Watford beat Aldershot 2-1.

Long Rangers and Partick Thistle drew 3-3 in a Scottish southern league game while Celtic defeated Dundee 4-1.

It's a hard problem for the C.A. H.A. solve. With poor goals these long series are white elephants, but when business is good the offers of the hockey body are supported in the lavish style to which they have become accustomed of late years. Gambling usually brings headaches anyway!

Al Smith May Pitch Opener For Cleveland

CLEVELAND, April 11.—(AP)—Al Smith was waived out of the National League five years ago but today he is the Cleveland Indians' mound ace and Manager Lou Boudreau's choice to hurl the season opener against the White Sox at Chicago April 18.

At 35 a man isn't supposed to be much of a pitcher but consider Smith's accomplishments last year. He scored 17 victories and was beaten only seven times. Three of the triumphs were shutouts, two were two-hitters and two others were four-hitters. The aging left-hander, in a Cleveland Indians' all-star team without the voice of his own manager and at the close of the season the Cleveland chapter of the Baseball Writers' Association designated him, the club's most valuable player.

The veteran has been one of the tribe's pitching mainstays from the day he was picked off the scrap heap at Buffalo and has demonstrated one quality which is shared by comparatively few pitchers—here a fellow who beats the good ball club.

"Old Porky," as his teammates call him, turned away the Yankees three times in five starts last season.

Smith has lost much of his speed but has learned how to make the batter hit the ball he wants him to hit.

By SYD THOMAS

TORONTO, April 11.—(CP)—The falling-off in attendance at some amateur hockey play-offs, especially in the west, caused some viewing with alarm among promoters and camp followers. The natural question raised is whether the elimination series event being dragged out too long for the brand of hockey offered up in many centers.

Bob Calgary Herald's Marni points out that the five and seven game series were originated in the late pre-war years when the supply of players was good and the spectators' demand was also high.

But when enlistments cut into the player ranks the Allan Cup squads lost some of their appeal. It contends, things reached an all-time low in Calgary when the Westminster Lesters and Edmonton Victorias drew 700 fans a game.

That doesn't apply so much in the east, where the juniors have been packing in the customers consistently, and the seniors also have good gate appeal on the whole.

It's a hard problem for the C.A. H.A. solve. With poor goals these long series are white elephants, but when business is good the offers of the hockey body are supported in the lavish style to which they have become accustomed of late years. Gambling usually brings headaches anyway!

Skidgery suggested!

A four-team lacrosse league has been formed in British Columbia, but the army had to fight hard to get a berth alongside the Dominion Cup. New Westminster Salmonbellies, Richmond and Burrards. The four teams at first didn't want to let them in, considering the soldiers would have to act as assistants in the draft board. They had visions of their players donning khaki and army lacrosse uniforms to out their former playmates, but were finally argued out of such undesirable ideas.

Incidentally, Revival of interest in ski jumping is urged by George Jacobson in the Montreal Gazette. The few available jumps in the Laurentians received little patronage last winter, and he wants the sport encouraged. He suggests short, easy jumps of 50 or 60 feet should be built and youngsters taught the ropes as basis for future big-time participation. Jumping provides more thrill than any other skiing activity, but the danger and difficulty scares off most skiers.

Minor baseball season headed for a good season in London, Ont., with 40 teams entered for the summer's play. Capt. Doug Sinclair, co-holder with Lieut. Ken Chandler of the Dominion squads doubles title.

In 1942-43, has been transferred to Vancouver, as army examiner. A yellow flag hanging from a ship's halyard indicates that there is a pestilence aboard.

Air Power

Control of Skies Over Italy

By Maj. A. P. de Seversky

Much of the confusion in the public mind about the arduous campaign in Southern Italy stems from the widespread delusion that the Allies control the skies over Italy. Why this myth has been encouraged in comment out of Washington is not clear, but it is a myth all the same.

Nearly four months ago I emphasized in these dispatches that although we possessed a great strategic air force, our tactical aviation is no better than Germany's. I have since been told that the air power is playing an auxiliary part in supporting the invasion in Italy.

GRIMSHAW.—Ratnapur of the Grimshaw school district met in the Ekl's hall last week to discuss whether or not this district should enter the Peace River division. It was decided to enter the division. THE MEDITERRANEAN BACK IN 1941

An analogous situation existed in the Mediterranean back in 1941, at the time of the initial German offensive in North Africa. Allied spokesmen have insisted that Allied sea power was in complete command of that sea. When large and well-equipped German naval forces showed up in North Africa this alleged naval domination, orthodox military commentators found themselves thoroughly mystified.

But when the German navy threw doubts on the official claim of sea command, they preferred to believe that 30-ton battleships had been smuggled into Africa by airplane. One military writer, I recall, even had the audacity to claim that the 30-ton battleships might have been carried by the air, but he could not for the life of his figure out how the 60-ton gunners could have been taken to sea in a tunnel under the Mediterranean.

WHAT HAPPENED

What actually happened was that German air power was able to close the gap between Sicily and Africa by the use of transport planes. Their own ships to scuttle back and forth practically un molested. The Allied naval superiority on the surface was meaningless because

An analogous situation existed in the Mediterranean back in 1941, at the time of the initial German offensive in North Africa. Allied spokesmen have insisted that Allied sea power was in complete command of that sea. When large and well-equipped German naval forces showed up in North Africa this alleged naval domination, orthodox military commentators found themselves thoroughly mystified.

But when the German navy threw doubts on the official claim of sea command, they preferred to believe that 30-ton battleships had been smuggled into Africa by airplane. One military writer, I recall, even had the audacity to claim that the 30-ton battleships might have been carried by the air, but he could not for the life of his figure out how the 60-ton gunners could have been taken to sea in a tunnel under the Mediterranean.

Happy Marriages Sure To Be Dull at Times

Marriages That Are Happy Don't Make Headlines in Scandal Sheets; Although Sometimes Dull Are Peaceful, Understanding

A young woman who has been married two years complains that her marriage is settling down into being just as dull and peevish as her parents; and that her husband is acting just like her father does. And she says she never expected this.

Nor does any other starry-eyed bride. Every blessed last one of them believes that her marriage is going to be different from the flat, dull marriage she sees about her. She thinks hers is always going to be full of romance and thrills and excitement, and the sees herself walking from the altar to her husband's wedding day in white satin and orange blossoms, with a man who never degenerates into being a mere husband.

QUICKLY DISILLUSIONED

But, alas, the dream doesn't come true, and by the time the bride has combed the rice out of her hair and unpacked her wedding presents and begun to discover that human nature is not what she expected it to be, she is going to be any exception to the mill run of marriages. It is going to be just about like Mamma and Papa's.

This is what we call the disillusion of marriage. Many a girl can't take it, and that is why the divorce rate is so high among the young. Because marriage isn't the exciting adventure she expected it to be, because her husband is a tired business man instead of great love, because he chuck it into the discard. This is particularly the case with women who are married to old men and who, having nothing else to do, begin to search for the crumpled rose leaf under their first matrimonial ease, and find their first love. It is just routine, with no more kick to it than the old man, and they had expected to spend the balance of their lives drinking cocktails.

These women who find marriage a failure because they are not thrilled at their husband's kisses, or palpitate at the sound of their footsteps, forget two important facts: one of which is that there is no way in which we can possibly escape monotony. We have to keep grinding at the same old mill and down the same old road. And the other is that we are all the same of habit, and we are happy when we follow our old familiar paths.

WHERE MARRIAGE IS SUCCESS

And this is just as true of men as it is of life in general. No marriage is really a success, unless the husband and wife have taken to the place where they take each other for granted, and have learned how to identify the angles of each other's disposition, and to keep each other's subjects that started arguments.

The happy marriages are not those filled with melodrama and quarrels and suspicions and divorces, and swapping husbands and wives and the things that make gossip and headlines in scandal sheets. They are those in which nothing exciting happens, where two people live together in love and harmony in a companionship so close it does not even have the need of words.

A marriage like Father's and Mother's is the only one that marriage may lack pep, but it is full of the peace that passes all understanding.

Council Awaits Board's Action On Relief Debts

City council Monday night decided to lay on the table Aid. H. D. Ainlay's resolution seeking the cancellation by the Royal Alexandra hospital board of all debts owing by relief recipients for hospitalization. This action was taken pending disposition of the matter at the next hospital board meeting.

Aid. Ainlay was critical of certain passages in a letter from Dr. A. F. Anderson, superintendent of the hospital, to the city council. One passage of which the alderman was critical was that the hospital board had been badly worked and was wrong impression with the public. Aid. Ainlay said that "he did not take a second place to Dr. Anderson in the matter of English."

MATTER OF "COURTESY"

The critical also of this passage in the communication from Dr. Anderson, "that common courtesy would suggest that the city council simply draw to the attention of the hospital board the adopted policy of the city relief accounts and ask that the board give due consideration to the adoption of a similar policy in regard to hospital accounts."

Aid. Ainlay asked "when had it become a breach of courtesy to ask a city board for relief?"

That was all the communication from the city to the hospital board, Dr. Anderson should have his opinion examined by the city council.

Aid. J. M. Douglas was of the opinion that the resolution introduced by Aid. Ainlay had been premature. The hospital board's policy regarding relief accounts had been ascertained first, and a decision, if necessary, could have been prepared in the light of information received in connection with these accounts.

MATTER OF POLICY

Aid. F. J. Mitchell said the writing of relief accounts was the matter of policy for the hospital board. He said that the board was now to be three years hence, both the provincial and municipal governments in the treatment of these accounts. A splendid job of adjustment has been carried out by the hospital board during the past two years, he stated.

Aid. Sidney Parsons was of the opinion that this matter should be left to the hospital board to deal with. He said the board had written off a considerable number of relief accounts, and had gone as far as was possible.

Aid. James H. Ogilvie said that members of council should not be too critical of Dr. Anderson's letter. He added that the provincial government had not cancelled the relief patients treated at the University hospital, an institution operated by the provincial government. If cancellation of these debts was undertaken then the hospital board should determine the policy. From information contained in Dr. Anderson's letter a considerable amount of such debts have been written off, he added.

Bird House Awards Presented Winners

Guests of the Kiwanis club at its regular weekly luncheon meeting at the Macdonald included the prize winners named in the Kiwanis bird house competition. They were: Robert B. Gavin, Bob Shillabeer, Hugh Campbell, Robert Lindsay, Alan Ostrowsky, Pat West, Lloyd Kilgus and Betty Munro. The awards were presented to them by Jack Munro and Roy Henry.

Least A. C. Grant, R.C.N.V.R. member, of the contest "Meet the Navy" was guest speaker. He reviewed the history of the show from its inception and related some of its experiences.

Tribute was paid at the meeting to the late H. W. Douglas, a charter member of the Kiwanis club, in a minute's silence to his memory. Vice-president "Dinky" Moore presided as chairman.

Check on Doctors

VCOUVIAN, April 11.—(CP)—Disciplinary action will be taken by the British Columbia College of Physicians and Surgeons against doctors convicted of writing prescriptions for benzodrine inhalers for their all at Viny Ridge, executive director of the college said yesterday.

Morrison Flying With One Leg

Mr. Morrison, D.F.C., D.F.M., one of Canada's best-known flying aces, destroyed 15 enemy planes over Europe, has completed flying tests at Trenton, Ont., and will shortly be posted as an instructor. He lost his left leg in a difficult leg and was captured when his plane crashed. He was recently repatriated from a German prison camp. Morrison, 22, now has an artificial leg and the 60-minute work out in a Cornell plane showed little loss of skill. He is shown in flying gear, as he took the test.

Germans Learned Anew Calibre Of Cannon Trucks At Vimy Ridge

The exact time of the attack and the mettle of the attackers were the only factors not wholly known beforehand by the German forces defending the formidable natural fortress of Vimy Ridge on April 9, 1917.

The factor was really the calibre of the Canadian soldier.

So declared Harold E. Tanner, president of the Edmonton branch of the Canadian Legion in addressing about 600 veterans of the First Great War and the present struggle in the Memorial Hall Monday night to commemorate the great victory of the Canadian Corps at Vimy Ridge on April 9, 1917.

DEAD ARE HONORED

The speaker followed a solemn march to the cemetery by a column of about 600 veterans of the First Great War and the present struggle in the Memorial Hall Monday night to commemorate the great victory of the Canadian Corps at Vimy Ridge on April 9, 1917.

"I say, when the Germans made their last big push that drove back the British, then Vimy Ridge stood as an anchor to the line and remained in Allied hands throughout the war and was not lost until 1940," he said.

"I think the people of Canada now realize clearly that Canada does not fall at the critical times in the last Great War. The boys of the old brigade who are young no longer scaled the heights and performed the impossible at Vimy Ridge. I think Vimy Ridge is the greatest battle in the last war. Now I know that Canada's young men of today will not fail either when called upon in the best test of the present struggle."

HAD NO TANKS, PLANS

"We had no tanks and planes at Vimy but we scaled the heights by men of today have a great mechanized force. I know you will come through too. Vimy is not the greatest Canadian victory of the war, was certainly the first of our really great victories," Mr. Tanner declared, adding that it is good that the Canadians should recall each year to recall the deeds and sacrifices of the men who gave their all at Vimy Ridge.

Premier Ernest Manning Urging Fearless Action On Behalf of Democracy

A call for "definite and fearless action on the part of every Canadian who cherishes the principles of true democracy" was voiced in Edmonton Monday night, when Premier Ernest Manning delivered an address entitled, "Act or Perish."

What there is a great deal of discussion and talk about post-war preparation, nobody is doing anything effective about it, said Mr. Manning. "There are hundreds of post-war reconstruction committees throughout Canada. Thousands of articles on these questions are pouring off the printing presses into newspapers, bulletins, magazines, and books. Politicians of all parties are talking about what should be done, or what they hope to do about the war."

"But the fact remains that nothing definite or effective is being done, and meanwhile our country is heading straight for economic chaos in the coming post-war period."

"Unless the citizens of Canada individually and collectively get busy and take definite effective action now before it is too late, we are in very real and grave danger of everything that we which our men are fighting and dying on the battlefronts of the world," the premier declared.

The address, in part, follows: More than two years ago the prime minister of Canada warned the nation that "if that new order was already on its way before the war is over we may look for it in vain. We are not to win in Canada the new order of which we are now witnessing in the light of the new order to which the prime minister referred."

In the light of his significant statement we must well ask: Is the increasing bureaucracy in the administration of public affairs a part of this new order? Is the virtual dictatorship over the lives of millions of Canadians by a multiplicity of controllers and boards and committees to be taken as evidence that the new order is already on its way? Is the present situation of the government of Canada a sign of the new order?

Or is the birth of this new order to be seen in the piling up of overwhelming debts and in the Dominion government's policy of taxation which will put people are submitting under the stress of war?

These things are not the evidences of the new order that is supposed to be already on its way, then can it be that its establishment is reflected in the careful preparation of financial, economic and political systems, which brought us to the verge of disaster during the last war, and were responsible for the deplorable condition which preceded the present conflict?

TREATMENT GIVEN

Or it may be that we can see further indications of it to expect from this elusive new order in the treatment that is being handed out to the men being discharged from the fighting forces, in the inadequate measures which have thus far been adopted for the rehabilitation of our returned men after the war, and in the federal government's attitude to such matters as old age pensions.

If these are a reflection of the kind of post-war order being prepared for us, then God help Canada. Don't you see, really nothing really effective is being done to bring about the fundamental changes that must be made before there can be even a remote hope of a post-war order in which our people will be assured economic security and freedom.

The blunt fact of the matter is that the senior government of Canada is just drifting along in a halfhearted way, and the new order is being done to bring about the fundamental changes that must be made before there can be even a remote hope of a post-war order in which our people will be assured economic security and freedom.
